USES: The Inogen Portable Oxygen Concentrator (POC) is an oxygen concentrator of low ventilatory capacity, designed for oxygen therapy on a prescription basis. It may be used in home, institution, vehicle, and various mobile environments. DO NOT USE IF: This device is not intended to be used in any way other than described in the instructions for use. Do not use in proximity to open flame or other ignition sources. Oxygen therapy (OXYGEN) is a drug. This device is not intended as an oxygen supplement and is not intended to be life sustaining or life supporting. ONLY use this product if the patient is capable of spontaneous breathing. Use caution if the patient is at risk of hypoventilation, or if the device is used by the patient in conjunction with other devices. Do not use in persons whose breathing during normal resting would be unable to trigger the device. Proper device trigger sensitivity setting must be confirmed by an experienced clinician or other qualified individual. Not for use in a hyperbaric chamber, oxygen tent, or hood. The device produces enriched oxygen gas, which accelerates combustion. Do not allow smoking or open flames in room (e.g. within 5 feet) of this device while in use. If you feel dizzy, uncomfortable, or if the device alarms and does not signal an oxygen pulse and you are unable to hear another pulse, the oxygen pulse, consult your equipment provider and/or your physician immediately. If you are unable to communicate or comfort, you may require additional monitoring and a distributed alarm system. Refer to the instructions for information about the disconnect and alarm features. Use only spare parts recommended by the manufacturer to ensure proper function and to avoid the risk of fire and burns. To avoid danger of choking or strangulation hazard, keep tubing away from children and pets. DO NOT SMOKE WHILE USING THIS PRODUCT. The oxygen flow setting must be determined and recorded for each patient individually by the prescriber, including the configuration of the device, its parts, and the accessories. It is the responsibility of the patient to periodically assess the settings of the therapy for effectiveness. The proper placement and positioning of the prongs of the nasal cannula in the nose is critical for oxygen to be delivered.
