Recipients can use the funds for tuition, books, or fees during their first year at a college, university, or trade school.

Harmon’s Lick Happenings

Dear family and friends. If my thoughts of you was wrapped in beautiful paper and tied with shiny ribbons, I would never be able to carry them all. There would be hundreds. I hope all of you are as happy as can be. I would love to hear that all the people who are weak and tired would get a whirlwind of wonderful strength and energy. I sent out a lot of St. Patrick greetings on this computer. I love all the precious little animals that was so beautiful. I really have never took the time to look up that Green Day, If I did it was so long ago I have forgotten. I find myself dreaming that my house is spotless. Everything organized and clean and shiny. I am starting to think that the only way I could ever get it all done would be like that lady on I Dream of Jeanie. If I could just wiggle my ears that way!! Happy Birthday to Jerry Leger. He is having a dinner of chicken and dumplings and homemade rolls, cornbread, etc. Yesterday Kaye texted me and told me to call her. She ask if we like chicken and dumplings. We are very excited. It is so wonderful to have supper delivered to your house. Kaye is an exceptionally fine lady. She has so many womanly talents and a few manly ones too. I better explain that. She cans, cooks, sews, crafts and takes very good care of her family. That’s the womanly stuff. The other is her ability to hunt and kill deer. There are probably more, but I would have to check with her. I’m not sure if she skins and dresses the deer, also not sure if she hunts other game. Thank you Kaye for being so special and good. Zachary, Kayla’s husband has a birthday this week. He is being remembered with a nice chicken dinner, prepared by his mother-in-law, Angela. We sure do love and admire you Zachery Lunsford. Last week we had such a great time at Angela’s house. I was so glad that Brook came and brought River, after school. I got Kylee off the bus, there on Swamper Lane. All those little kids sure do love Kylee. Angela poured herself a nice,

Communications non-emergency number to report downed power lines, blocked roads, and flooding. Officials emphasized that social media should not be used for emergency reporting, as messages may go unseen. They also encouraged residents to continue using 911 for immediate emergencies requiring urgent assistance. My goodness I never knew a one year old could pull such a stunt. I better get up from here. I was hoping to hear from someone who reads this column. Even if it is negative or mean, it might give me the incentive to be a great writer, maybe like Laura Ingalls Wilder. of those famous, long remembered writers. I can't close this column without say a few words to our dear Lord. Dear Lord, I love you, and I thank you. I know you heard so many people praying for me. I am thankful for you helping me to be able to do what I do. Back in January, I think my family was really worried about me. That is the sickest I have ever been. In my life. I love you and all my family, my Church family, my friends. Good bye for now. May God Bless us all. Joyce
