

Harmon's Lick Happenings

Psalm 128:1,2 Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways. For thou shalt eat the labor of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.

Good morning friends and family. It is truly a beautiful day to begin the lovely month of April. There is hope of brighter, warmer days ahead.

According to the almanac: Sniff lavender oil to reduce stress.

When stacking brush for burning, arrange compactly and all in the same direction. This will make the fuel dense enough to create a better fire.

In April, 1829, James Car- rington patented a coffee mill. I was just sitting here wanting a nice, hot cup of coffee. I think coffee is a favorite drink for lots of people, even little girls who just turned 1 year old in January.

Hi Angela, Ella Wren and Riv- er Cade. I sure do love finding those pictures and videos you send on your daddy's laptop. They make my day!!!!!!

Kenneth just walked past over there in front of me. I have some pictures on that wall that are very pretty, but so feminine. No tractors, horses or chickens. They are vintage women and children. Ever now and then he accidentally knocks one off. This time, he kicked it across the floor and said "Why do you have those things up there? !! I told him he better not do that again or I would go in there and do something of his that way. I couldn't think what. We both got tickled and he hung the picture back up. It is just a tad crooked, but still intact. I am beginning to see why so many couples end up divorced when the man re- tires. But I think Ken is more im- portant than a picture that might have cost less than $3.00.

This is the month that our Mother was born on the 6th and our baby sister on the 7th. I don't remember what Mom got on her birthday as gifts, but we have never forgotten what she left home and brought us in a day or so. The most beautiful little brown eyed, dark haired baby girl you ever could imagine. Car- olyn, Dad and I were so happy and we loved her, Janeffer Sue Saylor, so very much. Of course Mom did too. Everyone who met our baby was filled with love and admiration for her. Mom's doc- tor asked if there was any way he could adopt her. He knew, I guess, that she was going to be a special and rare little girl.

Happy Birthday dear Mother and sister, from all of us.

I just talked to Carolyn a few minutes ago on the phone. She said for me to tell everyone in Paper Land that she loves them and wishes them the very best.

Carolyn just went through a very harrowing experience. All our growing up I remember she had a tooth missing on the top. I can't imagine why it was never taken care of. Mom took us to the dentist and Carolyn went to the dentist after she was mar- ried. Her teeth were so crystal white and beautiful. But, just re- cently it was discovered that she had an impacted tooth. Her son, Jeffrey took Carolyn to Lexing- ton. They put her to sleep and removed the tooth. Her face has been so swollen and bruised, but she is on the mend and will be able to wear her denture very soon.

Life is wonderful and beauti- ful, but there are always going to be clouds in the cloudless days. If everything was perfect all the time, how could we enjoy it? We have to have something to com- pare it all to.

Anna, I was so happy to hear that you had come through that surgery ok. When your son called, it took me by surprise. I had to ask who it was. I really do hope to see you soon, at Har- mon's Lick. Tell Lydia and Ron and Connette hello.

A few days ago, Kylee was looking for her cat, Oliver. We found him under her bed. He wouldn't come out so I pulled him out and held him in my lap. He never did look at us or respond like Oliver always did. Kylee started crying and I don't think I have ever seen such big tears coming out of a little girl's eyes. It was like she knew something was bad wrong. On Saturday, early, Kylee and her Papaw took Oliver to the Vet in Stanford. It went for several hours before I heard from them. Then Ken called and told me they were having to put Oliver down. It was so heartbreak- ing. He was one of the sweet- est cats you could ever meet. I told you all how Kylee took him to Cartersville Church, hid in a purse. I had told her no cats in the house. But my heart melted when I saw that cute little face looking up at me from the purse. Oliver would have been three at his next birthday. I taught him to sit and to give me his paw. He acted like a little puppy, doing those tricks. It has left a really bad pain in our hearts, especial- ly Kylee's. When they got home with Oliver we had a service up at the flower bed in back of the house, where Cheddar was buried a few months ago, after being accidentally run over by a truck. We appreciate our family so very much for coming up to be with Kylee and us. There was Janeffer, Todd, Angela, Brooke, River and Abi. Some of them took turns digging the grave. We all wrote a farewell on his casket. Then we each threw a handful of dirt on his grave. We sang one song. The kids were all so precious, all of them.

Our girl was crying this morn- ing, but she seems to be taking it some better.

I thank you dear God for your loving comfort, in times of pain and grief.

I better go for now. My hip bones and my shoulder bones are aching. I am not used to sit- ting at the table, in these kitchen chairs.

My love and best wishes to all.

Joyce
May God Bless us all.
