Kentucky Farm Bureau Awards More Than $810,000 In Scholarships To Kentucky Students, Its Highest Total Ever

The Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) Education Foundation today announced it has awarded the highest amount in post-secondary education scholarships in the program's history. In partnership with county Farm Bureaus, the KFB Foundation awarded 601 Kentucky high school seniors a total of $810,150 in scholarships at both the state and county level. This brings the total amount of scholarships awarded to over $3.9 million since the program's inception in 1953.

Garrard County award winners include Lizzy Gallegos and Jaydon Noe receiving the Garrard County Farm Bureau Henry West Agriculture Scholarship - $2,000 and James Seagraves receiving the KFB Education Foundation Scholarship - $1,000.

"Our investment in young people is an investment in the future of Kentucky," said Eddie Melton, KFB President. "We're proud to support these outstanding students who are working hard today, and who are well on their way to becoming the leaders of tomorrow. Whether their academic paths lead them to agriculture or another field, Kentucky Farm Bureau is honored to walk beside them as they take their next steps."

Statewide scholarships include students attending a Kentucky college or university who are pursuing a degree in agriculture or a related field; students attending a Kentucky college or university who are pursuing a four-year degree in animal health/veterinary technology or a related field; students attending a Kentucky college or university who come from farm families; and more. A total of 110 county Farm Bureaus awarded scholarships to local students.
