

KSP Post 6 raising awareness for rail safety

KENTUCKY STATE POLICE

The Kentucky State Police (KSP) Post 6 is joining law enforcement and first responder agencies across the nation to participate in Operation Clear Track (OCT), the single largest rail safety initiative in the United States. This annual event takes place during “See Tracks? Think Train Week” and is designed to reduce the number of railroad crossing and trespassing incidents through education and enforcement.

Led by Amtrak and Operation Lifesaver, Inc., OCT brings attention to the alarming reality that every three hours in the United States, a vehicle or person is struck by a train. Each year, more than 2,300 people are injured or killed in railroad crossing and trespass incidents across North America, with over 60% of collisions occurring at crossings equipped with lights and/or gates.

to chew at the Greendevils' lead. A kill from Speier, a line violation on Dayton and an ace from Taylor Master tied the score 11-11.

Serves from Master kept the pressure on the Greendevils as Grant took the lead for the first time in the set. Dayton managed to break the Lady Braves' streak following an ace from Taylor, but Russell fired off a kill and the Lady Braves' offense tore forward, earning another five points before allowing Dayton to score.

Ahead 20-13, Grant had learned their lesson the first two sets and quickly put away the Greendevils before they could mount a last stand. Following a kill from Akers, Grant claimed a 25-16 win. Going 3-0, the Lady Braves earned their ninth win.
