SPECIAL TO THE ENTERPRISE

Samantha Abell fired a 76 and punched her ticket to the State Tournament in the qualifier at Lincoln Homestead on Thursday.

Abell finished third in the event to advance to the big dance and continued her fine play to start her senior season. She bounced back from her worst score of the season two days earlier at the Lady Cardinal Classic when she struggled to an 84 playing at Campbellsville Country

Marion County Coach Buck Robinson was glad to see his top player regroup and cross this hurdle with even bigger season events to come.

"That was one of her main goals going into the season, so that was fun to see her accomplish that. It has only existed for five years and she has been able to qualify every year, so that in itself is a really cool feat," Robinson said.

Newcomers to the team, County finished 7th out of Mary Beth Masterson, Lila 12 schools with Spalding

Bickett, and Alani Wheatley made their debuts in the event and though they were nowhere near the top of the leaderboard, Robinson was encouraged by their perseverance under the circumstances.

"I was very proud of our new girls for finishing their first ever 18-hole tournament round. They have just started playing golf and it took a lot of courage to go out there. They did a great job!" Robinson added.

The well-balanced Marion County boys' team continues to make its mark on leaderboards throughout Central Kentucky these opening weeks of the season.

Landon Bradshaw led the Knights with a top ten finish of 76 in the Commander Classic to start the busy week. Brayden Spalding backed him with a 78 as Marion County placed sixth out of 18 squads.

On Tuesday, the Knights were back in action in the 2A State qualifier at Lincoln Homestead again. Marion County finished 7th out of Bickett, and Alani Wheatley taking top honors for the made their debuts in the event and though they were nowhere near the top of the taking top honors for the locals with a solid 77 and teammate Spalding finished with 79.

The Knights had their best performance of the week on Saturday in the Battle of the Bridge in Danville. Marion County had three sub-80 rounds to take a 7th place finish among 18 teams. Jacob Tingle topped all Marion County golfers with a sizzling 74 for 19th overall and Bradshaw and Spalding chipped in 76 and 78. Cash Bickett stepped up for an 81 total for a 309 team score.

Robinson was thrilled with the outcome amongst several top area programs in one of the area's premier events.

"To come away with a top ten is a great accomplishment for us. This event was sponsored by Callaway Golf and it brought in some of the best teams in the state and for us to shoot our season low score was awesome," Robinson said.

According to the Knights' coach, the team still needs
