DeChambeau on LIV Golf extension: ‘You never know’

Field Level Media

In the wake of Brooks Koepka’s early departure from LIV Golf, it’s only natural that all eyes would turn to see if LIV’s most popular star, Bryson DeChambeau, would similarly jump ship with one year left on his contract or sign an extension early.

If you’re waiting for a clear answer, you’ll have to keep waiting.

“It’s confidential. I’m not going to share too much, but the conversations are in process,” DeChambeau told social media outlet Flushing It Golf in a long-ranging interview.

Bryson DeChambeau, seen here on Aug. 24, has expressed excitement for his successful Crushers GC team and his passion for the potential growth of team golf.

LIV Golf, while the American also offered praise and positivity for his experience with the Saudi-backed league.

“We have to get to a place where both parties have a good understanding of one another,” DeChambeau said of his readiness to sign an extension on a contract that expires after the 2026 season. “It is getting to a place that makes sense for both sides. And, I think that can happen, but you never know. Life throws curve balls.”

Koepka’s deceptive pitch came in the form of an announcement by LIV Golf on Dec. 23 that the two sides had “amicably and mutually agreed” to part ways. With a reported year remaining on his LIV contract, Koepka said he wanted to prioritize spending more time with family.

“That was quite a shock to a lot of people,” DeChambeau said. “There was always rumblings, but ultimately, it was a shock when I saw it today. ... People make decisions for whatever their needs and wants are, and ultimately, you have to respect it and move on, and it feels like it was a mutual understanding and that’s great.”

DeChambeau did express excitement for his successful Crushers GC team and his passion for the potential growth of team golf.

DeChambeau -- who is among the LIV team captains that own 25% of their franchises -- said his Crushers team has cleared $20 million in revenue.

After expressing optimism at June’s U.S. Open about renegotiating his LIV Golf deal before the end of the year, DeChambeau hesitated to say whether an extension could be done before LIV

Golf’s first event of the new season in February at Riyadh.

“I don’t know about before Riyadh, there’s a lot of things to go through,” he said. “You know, it’s a scenario that is very unique. With Brooks leaving, it definitely throws in some unique things. I’ve said it all along, I want to do this, I want to grow team golf across the globe. But it has to be right. And there’s a lot of things that have to be done in order for it to be right, you know?”

World Cup ticket demand breaking all records

Field Level Media

More than 150 million ticket requests have been submitted by fans from more than 200 countries for the 2026 World Cup in North America, FIFA announced on Monday.

The demand has reached record levels just 15 days after the start of the random selection draw ticketing phase, which remains open until Jan. 13.

“We have 6 to 7 million tickets on sale ... in 15 days we received 150 million ticket requests,” FIFA president Gianni Infantino said at the World Sports Summit in Dubai on Monday. “So 10 million ticket requests every single day. It shows how powerful the World Cup is.

“In the almost 100 years of the World Cup, FIFA has sold 44 million tickets in total. So, in two weeks ... we could have filled 300 years of World Cups. Imagine that. This is absolutely crazy.”

The 48-team World Cup is taking place across 16 host cities in the United States, Mexico and Canada from June 11 to July 19.

Fans from the U.S. have made the highest number of ticket requests, followed by Germany and the United Kingdom, per FIFA.

“This overwhelming response from passionate fans is a true representation of how our game is loved globally -- we are going to make history in North America when we bring the world together like never before in a celebration of unity and the best of football,” Infantino said.

Following the closing of the current ticket request phase, a draw will take place that gives all fans an equal chance of success. Those who are unsuccessful will have the opportunity to secure their seats during the subsequent sales phases as additional tickets are made available.
