Rehabilitation programs offer a path to recovery and rediscovery in addition to treatment, in a setting of compassion, understanding, and expert direction. Rehab facilities provide people with the knowledge, tools, and support they need to take back control of their life, mend broken relationships, and rekindle their passions and sense of purpose. These initiatives also play a critical role in lessening the wider societal effects of addiction. They help to bring an end to the cycle of drug abuse. It is our duty as a community to support individuals who are battling addiction by removing obstacles in their way and encouraging them to get treatment. Together, we must dispel the stigma attached to addiction and establish a welcoming environment where people can get the help they need to overcome their obstacles.

Scripture of the Week

Luke 10: 20 Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven. KJV

By Sherry Brown

Two short stories that have an impact of the sweetness about human behavior and rich enjoyment. Making good memories with a human or animal makes the heart enjoy precious delight. I personally love short stories with depths of kindness and positive impact. Enjoy and happy reading!

Romans 12:10 Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another. KJV.

Acts of Kindness By: Meg • February 20, 2026

I am always incredibly appreciative of the kindness of strangers. One particular stranger had a huge impact on me and to this day, I still think of him often and smile.

In 2019, I was getting an oil change at a Valvoline on the way to the hospital to see my grandpa, who was sick at the time. As I was sitting in the car in the middle of the oil change, I got the call from my mom that my grandpa passed away unexpectedly at the hospital. Immediately, I started sobbing and speaking frantically with my mom, trying to understand and figure out what to do next. The Valvoline worker could see I was in distress and didn't hesitate to support me. He very kindly comforted me, offered water, and had me pull over to the parking lot so he could help me coordinate with my husband to come pick me up and make sure I wasn't driving in the frantic state I was in.

I don't even remember if I had paid for the service or not, or how they finished the job - it was a whirlwind. But this kind man was so gentle, understanding, and comforting at such a devastating and vulnerable moment that I'll never forget him. He had red curly hair and a long red beard and reminded me a lot of my brother-in-law, who also worked at Valvoline for several years coincidentally.

Anyway, later that night when we went to pick up my car, my husband shook his hand, we both thanked him, and he gave him a nice tip for being so kind. I didn't get his name, but I hope he is living a great life and has all the happiness he deserves! It felt like I had met an angel on earth. This moment made me look for ways that I could spread kindness to others, which I love to do now as much as I can. You never know what small act may impact someone's life.

Follow the Dog Treats By: Ross • February 18, 2026

So, I'm a big bald guy (6'2" / 275 lbs.) and I have a tiny dog (10 lb. Chihuahua mix).

I thought my first dog was going to be a Great Dane but this little nugget stole my heart.

About two years ago we started running into an older woman during her daily walks and she always had treats in her pocket and it didn't take long for my dog to fall in love with her.

After a few months of casually crossing paths on the street, she did something sweet. I could tell she was working up the nerve to ask me something and she asked, "would you ever consider having dinner with a couple of 80 year olds."

Of course, I said yes (not totally knowing what to expect, but I trust anyone who is a dog person).

Over the last two years I've had dinner with her and her husband every few weeks and it's been one of the most rewarding relationships of my life.

They're just cool, funny, sweet people who love movies (we watched Casablanca together) and love my little dog and treat me incredibly kindly.

Now we bring each other food all the time and constantly check in. I feel like I hit the neighbor jackpot. It makes me want to cry just thinking about it.

Water random gardens and see what grows.
