VOTING

FROM PAGE A1

Deanna Kemp Cowherd and Donnie Munford.

Five people are listed in the race for three soil and water conservation district positions.

At the top of the ticket, Republican Andy Barr and Democrat Charles Booker are seeking support in the U.S. Senate race. Christopher Campbell of the Kentucky Party also is on the ballot.

The 1st District Congressional seat has Republican incumbent James Comer facing John “Drew” Williams, a Democratic nominee.

Also, a statewide ballot question would amend the constitution and limit when a governor can use pardon powers. The Ireland/Irene-Romine precinct also has a wet-dry question that would allow liquor sales at the marina if approved.

The sample ballot legal advertisement was published in the Oct. 22 edition of the CKNJ. Samples will be available at polling locations for voters who want to study the list before casting a ballot.
