Flatwoods woman makes Dean’s List

STAFF REPORT

Juliann Gould of Flatwoods has been named to Southern New Hampshire University’s Summer 2024 Dean’s List. The summer terms run from May to August. Full-time undergraduate students who have earned a minimum grade-point average of 3.500 to 3.699 for the reporting term are named to the Dean’s List. Full-time status is achieved by earning 12 credits over each 16-week term or paired eight-week terms grouped in fall, winter/spring and summer. Southern New Hampshire University is a private, nonprofit, accredited institution with a 92-year history of educating traditional-aged students and working adults. Now serving more than 200,000 learners worldwide, SNHU offers approximately 200 accredited undergraduate, graduate and certificate programs, available online and on its 300-acre campus in Manchester, New Hampshire. The school is recognized as one of the “Most Innovative” regional universities by U.S. News & World Report and one of the fastest-growing universities in the country.

ACTC SGA swears in new President, Vice President

Abby Bingham, left, was sworn in as SGA President and her sister, Layla Bingham, was sworn in as SGA Vice President at Ashland Community and Technical College.

ASHLAND Two sisters — both students at Ashland Community and Technical College — were installed to offices of the Student Government Association last week during a ceremony on campus. Abby Bingham was sworn in as SGA president, and sister Layla

Bingham was sworn in as SGA vice president. “This is the second set of sisters that have been voted in by their peers since I have been at ACTC,” Steve Woodburn, ACTC chief student affairs officer, said during the installation ceremony. “It’s important to recognize and appreciate the significance of student leadership. They strive to better our institution, and I look forward to see what they achieve this school year.” The students sworn in have been entrusted with the responsibility of representing ACTC student aspirations and concerns. “As president of the Student Government Association, this role means a lot to me,” Abby Bingham said. “I love finding new ways to get involved and help others, and SGA gives me the perfect chance to do that.” She said SGA allows her to work directly with students to make their college experience better, as well as tackle issues that matter to the student body as a whole. “I’m really excited to be a part of something that can make a real difference for the campus community,” she said. Her sister agreed. “I’m overjoyed to be in this position where I can support other students,” Layla Bingham said. “School can be stressful, and I think it’s so important to find ways to balance it all out. That’s exactly what I want to accomplish through my work with SGA.” She said she hopes to get more students involved and to gather their opinions on the events they plan.
