Public Notice Danville Independent School District Fund Financial Analysis

The district ended FY2024 with stronger current assets and overall modest growth in total assets compared to 2023, though noncurrent assets declined slightly. Revenues increased to support instructional services and facilities, while long-term obligations such as bonds and pensions remain significant financial commitments. The independent auditors issued a clean (unmodified) opinion, confirming that the financial statements fairly present the district's financial position. The entire audit is located at danvilleschools.net/departments/finance under "Financial Reports.
