Lady Bearcats need to stay healthy to reach goals

BY THOMAS J. BARR
THE ANDERSON NEWS

LAWRENCEBURG – Staying healthy is always a key for any athletic team.

The Anderson County Lady Bearcat soccer team is no different.

Coach Jason Earnest's team ran into some injury issues last season. However, it was still in the hunt for the District 30 title.

Anderson County lost 1-0 in the district semifinals.

"Like several teams I am sure, we had some significant injuries that crippled us a little bit at the end," said the veteran coach. "We remained competitive, but were unable to get wins we needed down the stretch."

Those hardships will help fuel the team for this year's quest to win a district championship and advance to regional play.

Unfortunately, the injury bug has already struck the Lady Bearcats and several players have suffered significant injuries which may force them to miss most, if not all, of the 2025 season.

"I like our chances if we can stay healthy," said Earnest.

He said Woodford County is the district favorite but he felt Anderson County is more than capable of competing for that title. In the district, Earnest said all four teams are very competitive as they chase Woodford for the crown.

Senior standout Marlee Lay is one of the key players lost for the season with an injury. But Earnest says the remaining players are very talented.

Karlee Ruble, a senior midfielder, will return as serve as the team captain. Earnest said she is an important voice and a leader by example.

He said Ruble is one of the stronger players who won't get knocked off the ball easily, while creating offensive opportunities on the wings.

Kendall Riley, a senior center midfielder, will anchor the midfield and she will be joined by sophomore Lilly Ruble.

Earnest said both will be pivotal for the team's success in the midfield.

Kaelyn Peach and AnnaLee McEwen are a pair of strikers who are both very fast and can cause problems for opposing defenses.

The back line of the defense will be very young and inexperienced with the exception of Alayna Williams, who Earnest called the anchor.

Without the key returning players, Earnest said it would be a tough season.

Playing in a tough district and a challenging region, Earnest is still very confident that his Lady Bearcats can compete.

"To make a post season run, first and foremost, we have to get healthy," said Earnest. Not only does injuries affect the starting lineup but also the depth of the team.

The team must also gain experience on the fly, especially the back line, which is very young.

Playing two of the top teams in the region over the first four games, Earnest said it might be tough going in the beginning.

"To start, we may have to find ways to outscore teams until we get experience and confidence from our back line players," said Earnest.

Another encouraging thing for Earnest is that the program has the most players during his tenure.
