out of bounds, God may very well be fed up with us. Actually, I cannot imagine that He isn't.

Many are convinced the state of the world is much to blame on the Christian community in that we have not told the world about our Glorious Savior. Without knowing Him, humans do not know the simple rules of humanity as stated in the Holy Bible. To know right from wrong doesn't come naturally; it has to be taught.

The crow of the rooster also can serve as a warning. The flock may be in danger and the crowing of the "king bird" is a warning of impending danger. We have been warned by history what the penalty is for continuing in sin.

Luke 22: 34 "And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me." As the story goes, Peter denied Christ the night before the crucifixion. Jesus had told him that the denial would happen, but Peter was convinced such a thing could never happen.

At the third denial (Luke 22: 61-62), Peter immediately remembered what Jesus had said. This scripture serves as a combination of a warning of our human frailties and the omniscience of God. These verses of scripture in depth tell us one of the many reasons Christ Jesus went to the cross for the sins of the world. Our weaknesses and sinful nature could not be overcome by anything less than a total sacrifice by our Creator Himself (Colossians 1: 16).

Many on first thought condemn Peter for denying Christ. We, however, should take this as an admonition to ask ourselves, "How many times have I denied Christ for less than thirty pieces of silver as did Judas?"

We must always teach that eternal salvation is attained by a faith-based belief (Ephesians 2: 8) in Christ Jesus crucified (Matthew 27: 35) for the remission of sin (1 John 1: 9) and resurrected (Matthew 28: 6).
