

Youth movement fuels Russellville wrestling's promising start

BY WES ELROD
NEWS-DEMOCRAT & LEADER

This past year the Russellville Wrestling program made its debut under head coach Jeramy Rust. To be able to build a program and sustain the program, the team continues to build towards the future as they have attended multiple youth tournaments over the past few months. Ultimately they ended their travel season on Saturday, hosting their own tournament at home, where their young wrestlers got a chance to be in the spotlight once again.

With kids from kindergarten all the way up to 5th grade, Russellville had kids of multiple ages competing and gaining more experience being on the mat. One of the biggest matches of the day was 5th graders and fellow teammates Huntley Moore and Thaddeus Lee going toe-to-toe on the mat for that top spot. It would be Moore that walked away with a victory, scoring more points, as neither could secure the pin throughout the match. Moore and Lee both medaled, though, as the top competitors, earning multiple victories throughout the morning.

Talking with Coach Rust, he gave the details on the event and what the future brings for the new program. "It was a great ending to our season. We had roughly 100-plus youth wrestlers from surrounding programs attend and compete. Of course we always want to improve on what we are doing, and we will look at ways to accomplish that for future events and wrestling itself. I didn't get to watch very many of our kids wrestle as busy as I
