Floodplain and Wetland Notice of Explanation Activity in a 100-Year Floodplain

To: All interested Agencies all Federal, State, and Local Groups and Individuals

This is to give notice that the City of Campton under 24 CFR Part 58 has conducted an evaluation as required by Executive Order 11988 and/or 11990, in accordance with HUD regulations at 24 CFR 55.20 Subpart C Procedures for Making Determinations on Floodplain Management, to determine the potential affect that its project in the floodplain and wetland will have on the human environment for Campton Water Treatment Plant Improvements Project under WX21237018. The proposed project is located in the City of Campton, Wolfe County, Kentucky. The City of Campton will use funding to rehabilitate the existing water treatment plant. Upgrades will include replacing, rehabilitating, and updating the following items: membrane filters, high service pumps, raw water pumps, telemetry, chemical feed systems, metering pumps, filter controls, laboratory equipment/analyzers, various controls, valves, and piping.

The City of Campton has considered the following alternatives and mitigation measures to be taken to minimize adverse impacts and to restore and preserve natural and beneficial values: The City of Campton evaluated alternatives. The first option was to do nothing. This option will result in the lack of sanitary facilities for public use. The second option was to construct a brand-new water treatment facility. This option would be outside of the City's budget and would need to be phased.

Part of the project may be in the 100-year floodplain as designated by the 2022 FEMA Floodplain Maps; with very minimal impacts to the floodplain areas.

The City of Campton has re-evaluated the alternatives to building in the floodplain and has determined that it has no practicable alternative. Environmental files that document compliance with steps 3 through 6 of [Executive Order 11988 and/or 11990], are available for public inspection, review and copying upon request at the times and location delineated in the last paragraph of this notice for receipt of comments. This activity will have no significant impact on the environment for the following reasons:

There will be minimum tree and vegetation removal. This project will provide better service to residents within the City of Campton service area, as well as continue improvement of the overall system. Once completed the project will not impede the floodplain. This is the most economical and least environmentally impacting alternative considered.

Written comments must be received by the Kentucky River Area Development District at the following address on or before July 28, 2025: Kentucky River Area Development District, 941 North Main Street Hazard, KY 41701 and (606) 436-3158, Attention: Courtney Young, CEDS Planner, during the hours of 8am- 4:30 pm Monday through Friday. Comments may also be submitted via email at courtney@kradd.org.

Ramblings

With Miss Mary

Hello, Friends, Family, and Readers. It is 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. At the moment it is 88 degrees on my front porch, I went to the Senior Center this morning, I thought we were going to play drums on the big balls but for some reason we did not. However, we did play Rook and that was fun. My friend, Sandy, brought me some more tomato plants but I am not sure they are going to survive. I am afraid it is too hot for them to catch on.

My kids are afraid I will not stay hydrated so they keep sending me cool stuff in the mail. I got a huge box of small containers of ready-to-eat jello as well as three cases of small bottles of water and two cases of 16 Oz. bottles of water plus a couple of quick foods they know I like and thirty cans of Diet Pepsi.

July 4th is just around the corner. I used to love going to see the fireworks with Bob as well as all other activities. I miss those days and I sure do miss him.

I got a phone call from my Doc Monday. She said my anemia is getting worse, so they need to do more blood work when I come in Thursday to try to figure where the blood is going. If it isn't one thing it's three. Please pray for me.

My next door neighbor, Lillian, watches for my oxygen on Tuesday as it has to be signed for. If she were not around to do it I would not be able to go anywhere on Tuesday. I sure do appreciate her.

I noticed on Facebook that a woman fleeing the police in Georgetown lost control and smashed into the Save-A-Lot Store, causing lots of damage. It said she was hurt. I hope she learns a lesson from this.

A lady at the Center asked me today who fixed my hair. I said, "My hair? Are you joking?" But she was serious. I just said, "Oh, I do it." Made me feel good but a bit embarrassed because I think it looks awful messy.

Thursday I went to the Extension Office and picked up my Farmers Market card. I forgot to ask how much it was worth but a friend said they told her it was fifty dollars, which sounds good to me.

Then I went to my doctor appointment. I had to have some blood work done as my anemia is not getting better. The doctor is closed tomorrow and Friday.

It rained about 5 p.m. Friday and if I did not know better I would think the water on the street was near boiling as it is steaming very heavy. So thankful to have air conditioning. I still go out and sit on the porch for 15 or 20 minutes throughout the day.

What a delight! Sundry I had a great visitor., My friend, Sandy, came by and brought me a new-like pair of shoes. She sat outside on the porch with me. We had a great visit.

Dena's aunt, Shirley Halcomb, lost her husband last week. I know how hard that is.

My friend, Cindy, came by Friday and brought breakfast with her, then we went to Jackson to the Asian Buffet for lunch. We had a great time. She will be back on the 10th to take me to Winchester for my first appointment with the lung doctor. I always dread first-time appointments with doctors I've never met before.

I did not go to the flea market this weekend. It was simply too hot. The other vendors always take care of me but not much they can do about the heat.

My kids are coming for my birthday the end of August. They are making it into a family reunion and many of my grand kids and great grands will be here. I am really looking forward to it.

My oldest girl, Colleen, has to rent a car for the trip and of course she must rent a cabin while they are here. So they have started having yard sales in their front yard to raise money. She is a flea market dealer anyway, so they had their first sale this weekend. They made just over eleven hundred dollars and will have another sale the middle of July. She really knows how to run a sale.

Guess it is time to say so long once more. Try not to get too hot, stay safe and happy, and remember, "I care".
