THE WAY WE WERE

1926
Proposition?

The Lawrenceburg City Council, at its regular meeting, refused to grant the Kentucky Utilities Company a franchise to operate in Lawrenceburg for a period of 20 years. The business between Lawrenceburg and the Kentucky Utilities Company for the past year has been transacted without a franchise, the old one having expired and a new one not having been signed. It was believed the Council would accept or reject the proposition once and for all at the meeting.

Washed Out

The Gee section on Crooked creek was hard hit Friday night when heavy rains washed out seven bridges. In most cases the bridges were washed from their foundations only slightly, usually on one side. County Road Engineer Clyde Case, with a force of men, have repaired the damage and they are now ready for traffic.

New Champ

A new champion was crowned at the Anderson

1956

Sylvester Johnson, 49, received burns which proved fatal when an explosion and fire swept the showroom of Hanks Motor Company on West Woodford St. Johnson was reported to have been helping clean the floor with gasoline when the fumes were apparently ignited by a pilot flame in a gas water heater at the rear of the room. Johnny Burchett, a salesman with the firm was hospitalized with burns on his hands and arms he received in dragging Johnson from the building. Earl Baxter was treated for shock at the hospital but was released later in the day.

County Gun Club Friday when "Billy" Mountjoy, the 13-year-old son of W.D. Mountjoy, turned in the good score of 22 out of 27. Mitchell Bailey tied with the winner at 20 out of 25, but lost on the two extra shots by missing one, while Mountjoy splintered both pigeons.

Jail Physician

C.W. Kavanaugh, Lawrenceburg physician, was unanimously elected as jail physician after a motion by Esquire W.T. Overstreet and seconded by Esquire R.T. Gee. For his services he will receive $1 per visit.

Kavanaugh Notes

Lorain Morris recently enrolled here. Students rejoice to learn that Arthur Shouse, former student, will re-enter as a senior.

1956

Three former pastors and their families will return for the services. They are the Rev. J.E. Darter, the Rev. Roy Hamilton, and Rev. John Krushwitz.

Ordinance

Whereas, the City of Lawrenceburg has recently acquired title to a street right-of-way, which right-of-way extends Saffel Avenue northwardly and eastwardly to a point where same connects to Chautauqua Avenue, which street is for the purpose of serving an elementary school now under construction by the Anderson County Board of Eudcation.

2016
Retires

Anyone who has visited a gas station in Lawrenceburg over the past couple of decades almost certainly knows him, even if they don't know his name. Larry Baldwin, who worked at the Parkway Valero, is retiring. He's the soft-spoken, affable man with a penchant for counting back change in increments of 1,000. He's the guy who calls young and old alike, "kid."

Gun Doctor

There's a new gunsmith in town. Becky Kostenbader, aka The Gun Doctor, has set up shop on Main St. with plans for opening Nov. 9.

Board Formed

The Anderson County Conservation District has announced the formation of its Junior Conservation Board, comprised of high school students who are homeschooled or enrolled in Anderson County High School, or the Christian Academy of Lawrenceburg.
