A longtime resident of Georgetown, Sharon was born in Carlisle to the late Roberta Harney Davis and Roy Davis on Nov. 1, 1953. By first grade, her family had moved to Georgetown and she attended Garth School. She went on to graduate with the Class of 1972 from Georgetown High School where she was a baton-twirling majorette in the band.

Hoskins

Sharon was an independent woman who aspired to be a pilot in her younger years and logged many hours in the air nearly completing her Private Pilot's License. Sharon attended Midway College and later completed her Lab Technician certification while working at Central Baptist Hospital. She continued her 40-year career as a Lab Tech with extensive hospital experience at Ephraim McDowell in Danville, Scott General in Georgetown, and at Harrison Community in Cynthiana from where she eventually retired. Sharon made many friendships and earned the nickname "Buffy" due to her ability to draw blood so effortlessly. Sharon also traveled across the U.S. making new friends, meeting new coworkers, and serving other hospitals in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Nevada, and Virginia.

Sharon was most proud of her children and her grandchildren. She enjoyed being close to her family and spending her time with friends. She loved dining out and socializing with her friends and closest cousins. She spent many hours hunting and collecting antiques, most notably Fosteria glassworks and Paul Sawyier prints.

Sharon will be lovingly remembered by her daughter, Sabrina (Aaron) Tucker of Georgetown; her son, Michael Tate (Ashley) Davis of Versailles; her granddaughter, Kenley Tucker; her grandson, Owen Tucker; her cousins, Barbara Lester, and Debra Davis; her good friends, Susan Mefford, Angie Ewing, Susan French, and Helen Carroll; and her surviving cat, Gordon Whitefoot. Sharon was preceded in death by her parents; her dog, Dylan; and Corey the Cat.
